

Kelly Clark

Founder Addiction Crisis Solutions

NEEDS UPDATE Kelly J. Clark, MD, MBA, is board certified in addiction medicine and psychiatry. A Louisville resident, Dr. Clark is Chief Medical Officer of CleanSlate Centers, a multi-state medical group treating over 8,000 patients currently with opioid addiction in an outpatient setting in 8 states, including Indiana and soon Kentucky. Dr. Clark has served as President of the American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM) since April 2017. Representing over 5,500 physicians specializing in Addiction Medicine and over 500 associated professionals, ASAM is the largest group of physicians and allied health professions specializing in treating addictive diseases. She led the workgroup on Health Systems and Reimbursement at SAMHSA's Buprenorphine Summit; has served as expert to the FDA, DOJ, and US Comptroller General; Pew Trust, the Ad Council, and National Safety Council; the Association of Managed Care Pharmacies and a variety of health plans. Clark continues her work as a founding member of the Advisory Board of the National Rx Drug Abuse and Heroin Summit.